Hi Rick,

I guess this action fell off of the radar. Buddy is trying to run down the manufacturer's use instructions for you and once I get them from the rig/ him I'll forward them on to you.

We do have a draft write up for the Discoverers Deck drainage process. I believe it's being vetted through Noble's attorneys hopefully we'll have something to you soon.

Hope all is going well for you.

Hi Lana:

Welcome back, hope all went as planned.

What I requested and thought Buddy had it and was going to send it were the manufacturer's use instructions (e.g. label or other user instructions). I reviewed emails and did not locate any such submission so I would appreciate if you could check again.

Thanks.

Hi Rick,

Did you ever get a copy of the Coil Guard 400 SDS? Attached is the SDS sheets, in the event you did not.
